

Speaker Introduction

PATRICK SNOW is an international best-selling author, professional Keynote speaker, publishing and book marketing coach, and Internet Entrepreneur. He first discovered his gift for speaking at the age of 17 while giving the pre-game speeches to his high school football team. Since then, Patrick has electrified more than 1,500 audiences worldwide to create their individual and organizational destinies.

Patrick's "DESTINY" message has been recognized on TV, in magazines, and in major newspapers such as The New York Times. His book and family photo was also featured as a cover story in the December 5th, 2002, issue of USA TODAY.

Patrick is author of the international bestseller, Creating Your Own Destiny: How to Get Exactly What You Want Out of Life and Work, which has sold more than 150,000 copies since its first printing in 2001. This book and his second book, The Affluent Entrepreneur, have both been picked up by John Wiley & Sons and have been republished under the Wiley imprint. He is also a contributing author to numerous other books including Chicken Soup for the Soul: Life Lessons for Mastering the Law of Attraction.

Patrick's mission is to help others overcome their fears by turning their career distress into personal success. Originally from Michigan, Patrick graduated from the University of Montana in 1991, and has lived in the Seattle area ever since. He and his two sons, Sam and Jacob, reside together on Bainbridge Island, Washington.

Please join me in welcoming, "The Dean of Destiny" Patrick Snow...
